

EDMONTON LETTER

(By C. H. Stout)

Edmonton, March 10th.—The water that runs under the bridge has been left far behind by the words that have poured across the face of this Social Credit province and beyond since the supreme court of Canada ruled last week that the Dominion has the right of disallowance over provincial legislation, and that the bank tax and control bills, and the measure to curb the newspapers, enacted by the legislature last September, were unconstitutional.

Probably more staggering even than these decisions was the opinion of Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff that the Alberta Social Credit Act, under which the social credit board functions, was itself ultra vires. It is hard to say by what means any further expenditure by the board can be legalised, it may not be possible for the Lieutenant Governor to sanction the vote of $100,000 to the board for 1938, submitted in the event if the legislature majority endorses the item.

Carrying an appeal against the supreme court verdict to the privy council will merely prolong the evil, when the three acts must be dropped for all time, legal authorities here believe.

Naturally Premier Abbott and his government were put in a bad spot by the verdict. Provincial treasurer Holt on law in his budget speech ventured the hope that a tax of $100,000 expected from the banks would offset the $600,000 deficit of 1937 and the $1,500,000 deficit expected for 1938. Rumors are prevalent in the event that the government has "a couple of shots in the locker" as a final bait for a new credit system, but what these proposed schemes are has not yet been revealed. In any event any further unconstitutional legislation would only aggravate the situation and make as appeal to the country almost inevitable.

While all this constitutional argument goes on the legislature found time during the last week to put seasonal allowances for members back to the $2,000 mark where it used to be in the good old days before the depression. Trauma cabinet ministers were by house resolution directed to continue at the old scale of $1,800, but members of the treasury committee were assured of almost the $200 extra by virtue of discontinuing salary cuts for married civil servants receiving less than $2,000 annually. Contributions therefore for ministers will not apply on the first $2,000 of their salaries, though they are not property civil servants. In a rough tumble debate the house majority turned down a resolution that liabilities be cut 25 percent, which Liberals, Conservatives, Social Credit and eight government members supported, and the amendment restoring allowances to the $2,000 mark was carried 16 to 11.

The budget debate went on all week after being launched by Liberal leader E. L. Gray.

When D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader, stated no other administration in the British Empire ever had so much legislation declared unconstitutional government, beneficiaries pounded their desks thunderously.

Extension of the moratorium on private debts for another year was provided by a new measure to suspend the payment of debts until March 31st, 1939, under which heavy penalties might be imposed on defaulting action to collect payments suspended by the act.

Authority was given the agricultural commission, consisting of all the members of the house, to hold an inquiry into unemployment relief questions with the purpose of hearing representations and considering a policy of administration. Meanwhile Treasurer Solon Low said to Ottawa Saturday to send federal authorities about further financial assistance in drought area and general relief.

Delay in bringing down the proposed securities tax act was said to be due to conflict between a socialist and capitalist over the provisions of the measure, with the caucus majority in a stand that the act be quietly equipped with "teeth" to make it definitely applicable as a source of provincial revenue. It will levy two percent on principal and amounts of mortgages, bank mortgages, agreements of sale and similar securities, with stocks and bonds exempt.

Provisions for the blind will start in Alberta April 1st with 75 percent of the cost paid by the federal government.

DEATH OF J. F. DAMEN

The death took place on Mr. 4th of Johannes Franciscus Damen, at the Midnapore Home.

Mr. Damen was 76 years of age and had only been sick four days. He was born in Zevenbergen, Holland and came to Strathmore from Holland with his family in 1909, where he has since been farming.

He leaves to mourn his loss, three sons (two of the Strathmore district and one in Calgary), also five grandchildren. His wife predeceased him a number of years ago.

Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father P. Cosman Tuesday Morning at 10 o'clock.

Full bearers were Mr. Bartelme, Mr. Kimmey, Mr. Garrett, Mr. C. K. Mum, Mr. Van Wessel, and Mr. Slater. Jacques Funeral Home in charge.

EMILE ZOLA

This was a very fine picture from every angle and the appreciation of Strathmore citizens is due to Mr. and Mrs. Little for providing such excellent entertainment for their patrons.

Paul Muni in his characterization of Zola was excellent and all other players were good, and gave a strong one. Unfortunately counter attractions made the attendance regrettably small.

Menus appear on the theatrical poster—Victoria the Great; Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs; The Buccaneers; Wells Fargo. Watch for dates of above pictures and make sure to see them.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strang, Director, Research Department, Seaside Grain Company, Ltd.

"Regarding August 1st, next, Mr. Garnet will be allowed in No. 3 or No. 4 Northern" Parliament is now considering the proposed change.

This move will please farmers in the southerly Marquis area, but is causing much concern to those in the north who so far have depended upon Garnet for a living.

"Shall I stay with Garnet?" many a farmer asks.

Garnet growers, it seems to me, will have to accept additional risks whatever they decide to do. If they substitute another, but later variety for Garnet the price for that variety will be lower, but if an early frost occurs then that variety might produce only lower grades and a low yield. If farmers, on the other hand, stay with Garnet, while they would have a better chance of avoiding frost, and so of producing a high grade and a high yield, yet the price for Garnet might be lower. "How much lower?" Nobody knows. "Is the answer, but at this moment No. 1 Garnet is selling at about No. 3 Northern price, and 3 Northern at Liverpool is commanding a high premium over all other foreign wheats."

One piece of advice, however, I can give—if you stay with Garnet be sure to purchase a few bushels of pure Certified seed, so that eventually you will produce a crop of pure Garnet, grade No. 1.

Mr. Paul once said "There all things hold fast to that which is good."

Lethbridge Experimental Station

The Experiment Station is primarily a fact finding institution but obviously the facts must be presented in a way that can be of value. This presentation is made through public meetings, field days, bulletins and reports, newspaper articles, weekly letters, personal contact and personal correspondence.

Personal contact and personal correspondence are in many respects the most desirable for "how" methods of the problems which arise in our agriculture and the results obtained in experimental work on the station and the widely scattered Sub-stations and Illustration Stations provide a fund of knowledge which can be of assistance to most farmers at least in some of their difficulties.

This may be most obvious in cases such as when new crops are being introduced and the choice of variety, cultural methods and methods of harvesting must be learned. Usually such information can be obtained from the Experiment Station, either before the crops are introduced commercially or at any rate before the farmer at large has learned through costly experience how to handle such new crops.

Likewise changes in soil fertility, the effect of fertilizers, methods of weed control, water application and numerous other subjects are continually under study and up to date information along these lines is always available.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Chamberlain entertained at a very delightful dinner bridge of four tables over the week end. Mr. Hugh Berry and Mrs. White were fortunate holders of the high score. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Saunders. We are delighted to know Mrs. Saunders has made such a splendid convalescence.

A Weekly Review of National Affairs

Ottawa, March 10.—There is plenty of grist for the parliamentary mill this session. The government's two transport bills have made further progress towards enactment. One that has passed through the commons and will now be considered by the senate.

The Trans-Canada Air Lines Act. The bill will enable planes on this transcontinental service to pass over a section of Maine on their way to and from the Maritimes. The Airways may also, in future, operate some air links across the international boundary into the United States and the amended bill will give the air lines power to do so.

The necessary authority was also given the Canada Airways to make its agreed investment in the Trans-Canada air service. Canada's contribution to this service, amounting to about $12,000,000, represents 24.12 percent of the shares of this enterprise. A similar proportion will be owned by the Irish Free States while the United Kingdom will own 51 per cent.

Next month a delegate will be sent to Ireland from Canada to discuss the formation of the company. Imperial Airways will own 51 per cent. Next month a delegate will be sent to Ireland from Canada to discuss the formation of the company. Imperial Airways will own 51 per cent.

A situation where great and powerful Nations such as Britain and France complacently collect opium revenues in one part of the world while denouncing the drug traffic in another part seems a prime example of shaking duplicity. (From "Current History"—March)

Civilization spurs us more and more the sight of anguish, and our imagination must be correspondingly sharpened to see in the cloque-boss an agent as spiritual and poetic as the grime and blood-stain of ministering hands. (From "The New Basis of Civilization" by Professor Simon Fatten)

People will never send much of their treasure, where their heart does not go first. If each of us chooses some disinterested form of public service and puts himself thoroughly into it, things will go very well. From "Social Organization" by Professor Cautley.

In broad daylight
He should not be;
Yet toward and forward,
Forward and toward
He weaves a flight.
Who will guide him back to his cave,
A little Bat astray,
Where he'll rest on the breast of night
Away from day's bright miseration?
The limnet throbs through the air,
The magpie coquettes with day,
The rook caws "Time to be gone,"
And travels on;
While toward and forward
Forward and toward,
The Bat — — — a fathom
Of flight — — — weaves.

Answer.—About $571. This shows that Life Insurance assets are made up of the savings of millions of thrifty men and women.

Q.—What is the nature of Life Insurance funds?

A.—They are trust funds held by the Life Insurance companies to pay policy claims as they fall due.

Q.—How are these funds invested?

A.—In loans to governments and municipalities — for building homes and schools — for improving farms — for constructing good roads and transportation systems — for developing industries and public utilities.

Q.—To what extent does Alberta share in such investments?

A.—More than Ninety Million Dollars of Life Insurance funds are invested in this Province.

This is the third of a series of messages, sponsored by Life Insurance Companies operating in Canada. The fourth, to appear in two weeks' time, will discuss Life Insurance investments.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT AND THE SUPREME COURT

The Supreme Court has disallowed the three bills relative to the Alberta Legislature, and to go still further Sir Lyman Duff has given its opinion that the whole fabric of Social Credit will not stand up.

Confusion worse confounded. The Budget recently brought down by Hon. Sidney Low in meeting with stronger opposition as the significance of some of its rulings is being more clearly recognized. More taxation, larger increases but never a word of the $25 dividend to the scabby class and ill fed citizens of Alberta?

HON. R. B. BENNETT RETIRES FROM PARTY LEADERSHIP

Throughout Canada people of all political creeds will sincerely regret the health condition which necessitates the retiring from the leadership of the Conservative Party of the Rt. Hon. Richard Bedford Bennett.

That he is an exceedingly able man is admitted by people of all political shades of opinion. He has been an able representative of Canada on various international conferences, and has served his country with distinction. To name an efficient successor as Party Leader is causing considerable concern. Among other names that of W. D. Herridge is being favored. He is a clear and keen thinker, possesses a strong personality and we believe would make a good leader.

Dr. Manion is also a name to be reckoned with, also Denton Massey, and several others. However the Convention will not be held until Autumn and new stars may appear on the horizon ere that.

ANTHONY EDEN AND THE 1938 NOBEL PEACE PRIZE?

The Plunderer owes apologies to King George or maybe to Anthony Eden for giving the recently resigned Foreign Secretary a Knighthood and dubbing him Sir Anthony in an editorial last week.

Possibly it was the editorial subconscious which ran berserk when the editorial was written. In any event we feel that the title will some day be bestowed on Mr. Eden although, at the moment, his policy is considered detrimental to the welfare of the British Empire.

Beautiful Flower Garden FREE 500 - Gladiolus Bulbs - 500

All No. 1 in size from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 inches in diameter, 50 different varieties, including such high class ones as Aida, Bagdad, Comrade, Commander Kuehl, Copper Breeze, Dr. Bennett, Flaming Sword, Gold Eagle, King Nymph, Hissomon, Jewell, King George, Marmora, Mexico, Our Selection, Pelegrina, Pfister's Triumph, The President, Picardy, etc., all colors—red, white, blue, pink, purple, emerald and bronze, and every shade in between. Gladioli are the very best flower for the garden. No other excels them in beauty. Plant early in May, four inches deep, plant like onion sets and just as easy to grow.

These bulbs are pure flowering, all hardy, acclimatized kinds grown under ordinary field conditions, in the largest acreage of Gladioli on the Prairie, by COLIN H. BURNELL, WILLOWBRAKE FARM, OAKVILLE, MANTOBA.

This collection of bulbs, if bought at ordinary retail prices, would cost from $25.00 to $40.00. You can obtain this garden full of superb Gladiolus Bulbs by sending in the best answer to the above question.

No answer should contain more than 100 words, and all answers must be in before April 15th. Editor and one other will be the sole judges as to the best answer received, which will be published along with the name of the winner.

HOW CANADA HEARS "THE BAD NEWS"

Few people realize when they wake up on a cold winter's morning and read "the bad news" that the "thermonometer is due to take another drop that bolid the weather forecast in their daily paper there are approximately 1,000 reports carried over the Canadian National Telegraphs each day to make up the few words which tell whether the nation will deliver in a cold wave or even a hot day ahead.
 As assistants to the Weather Man,
 the Canadian National Telegraphs play a vital part in the business of forecasting conditions. Each morning at 10:30 o'clock, from Toronto, the telegraphs snap into action and some 250 points in Canada and the United States hear the good, or bad, news.
 Nor a second is wasted in tabulating the reports. As each arrives from some other point, it is tabulated and re-written upon pre-dressed blanks and forwarded to other meteorological stations.

In the course of the day, approx-

PLENTY WISE

Cleverness—Wisdom underdone.
 Beauty—Usually only skin deep.
 Appreciation—Envy in sheep's clothing.
 Alimony—Just a grass widow's pension.
 Movie—The one business on a sound basis.
 Silence—The best substitute for brains.
 Experience—The only teacher not underpaid!
 Money—A substance lost more ways than won.
 Worry—A kind of interest paid on future woes.
 Success—Still the ability to change
 "no" to "yes."
 Diplomacy—The art of letting some one else have your way!

FOR GOLFERS!

A golf professional, hired by a department store to give lessons, was approached by two women.
 "Do you wish to learn to play golf, Madam?" he asked one.
 "Oh! No!" she said. "It's my friend who wants to learn. I learned yesterday."

Representatives of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association conferred Monday with Hon. Lucien Maynard, minister of municipal affairs at Edmonton, on amendments to the Tax Recovery Act which deleted necessity of forwarding tax sales in newspapers. Instead, the amended bill provided to publish notice in the Alberta Gazette, which is not seen by more than one per cent of the taxpayers of the province.
